BABY'S FOOD

We believe that every mother wishes to do what is best for her child. A great responsibility rests upon each mother. Upon these shoulders the country depends the health of the next Canadian generation.

The infant is absolutely dependent upon his mother. Beyond his ability to express pain and hunger by crying, he is a very helpless creature. It is this extreme helplessness that is, in many ways, so appealing, while, at the same time it makes great demands upon the mother.

Much of the sickness and misery of the death which so many infants are due to the fact that mothers, instead of breast-feeding their babies put them on artificial feedings. There is no artificial feeding that can be compared to the natural food. The baby who is deprived of the natural food loses something that cannot be replaced, and has not an equal chance to grow up strong and well as compared with his naturally fed brother.

Why are babies artificially fed?

A few are so unfortunate as to lose their mothers; a few mothers, on account of illness, are unable to nurse. In the vast majority of cases, it is because the mother does not know that she is doing the wrong thing when she weans her baby. She may think that she cannot nurse her baby; that the baby is not doing well and so the mother's milk is insufficient or of poor quality; that some artificial feeding is better; that some well-meaning neighbor is an authority on children; and this neighbor has advised weaning.

There are very few women who cannot nurse their babies, but, in many cases, they need instruction as to how to do it. In failure to breast-feed to her baby, no mother should wear her baby except on the advice of the family physician.

To Editor of "The Delia Times"

Since our agricultural movement, lately recently, the Government's revised rates of price lists have come to hand. A few of these I would like to make public for the use of exhibitors.

The Government will not pay a grain on a bushel for more and, perhaps, not one and get, nor four bushel team, nor horse of rips. The prices should be offered for special breeds of horses, but horses of different breeds must compete together in same.

All art and grain on an exhibition must have been produced since the previous fair, and confined to exhibitors living in the district tributary to the fair, and must be the work of the exhibitor.

We J. H. W. P. President.

Warning to Farmers Regarding Seed Grain

The Honorable Mr. Howland wishes to clearly point out to the Farmers of Southern Alberta, who were unfortunate not to have their wheat threshed last fall, and who have now sown their seed, that the grain is not suitable. According to germination tests made by the Dominion Seed Branch at Calgary on a large number of samples collected of wheat threshed within the past couple of months from seed to 85% more vigorous than about 90% in six years and very few testing as high as 90% in twelve days.

Under adverse climatic conditions this spring a poor crop is inevitable unless good seed is sown.

Many farmers sold out all the grain they had threshed last fall expecting to have some more threshed shortly and save their seed from (a) unfavorable weather conditions prevented the same and certain disaster to the themselves short of good seed.

To meet the needs thus developing, the Department of Agriculture has put its teeth with grain handling and save their seed from (a) unfavorable weather conditions prevented the same and certain disaster to the themselves short of good seed.

Man Who Pays Bills When Possible Always Receives Consideration

It is a well-known fact that a man who pays his bills when possible always receives consideration. This is true in business, in society, and in life. The man who delays his payments until the last moment, or who fails to pay at all, is regarded as a scoundrel. On the other hand, the man who pays his bills promptly and in full is regarded as a gentleman. This is the difference between a scoundrel and a gentleman. It is the difference between a man who is a failure and a man who is a success. It is the difference between a man who is a disgrace and a man who is a credit.

Fin Flon Half

More Than Half of the Steel Has Now Been Laid On Branch

Fifty-one miles of more than half the steel have been laid on the branch line from the Hudson Bay Railway to the Fin Flon, according to H. A. Dixon, chief engineer of the western line of the Canadian National Railway, who returned to Winnipeg from an inspection of the line and also to the end of steel on the Hudson Bay Railway.

Over a hundred men are engaged in building the Fin Flon branch line. Mr. Dixon said the work has been about as scheduled. His hundred men are busy on rock work on the line, and the Fin Flon branch line will be ready to receive the steel at the end of the year. Seven hundred men are engaged in track work, including ballasting and bridge filling, and two steel sheds are also busy on the line. The discovery of a large deposit of suitable ballast close to the line will assist in expediting construction.

THE COST OF DISCIPLINE

Golden Text: "Where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also." Matthew 6:21.

Lesson: Mark 10:17, 12:41-44.

Explanations and Comments

The Great Healed, 10:17-22. "O Teacher, what will I do that may inherit life?" Jesus asked. The question which a young aristocrat put to Jesus, the great teacher, was answered before him. He realized that he had no need of a teacher, the great good, of life, and he answered him. "What wilt thou do?" (Matthew 19:16).

"Why callest thou me good?" Jesus asked. "Thou callest me good, but thou art not good, even God." This question was asked by a young man who had used the word good in his life, though he was not when he said "good morning." Jesus would have him know that he was not good, even God. This question was asked by a young man who had used the word good in his life, though he was not when he said "good morning."
